Undergraduate Advising

Advising in the CS department will begin in mid-March before registration opens for Summer-Fall 2022. Please expect an email from csfrontdesk@utep.edu with information on your academic advisor and instructions to set up an advising appointment. In the meantime, review the following guidelines:

STUDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY

Students are ultimately responsible for meeting the requirements of their chosen catalog. Please review the catalog carefully. If you cannot make your scheduled advising appointment, please cancel. Seek information on opportunities and become involved in student organizations!

EXPECTATIONS OF STUDENTS

1. Arrive on-time for your advising appointment.

Graduate Advising

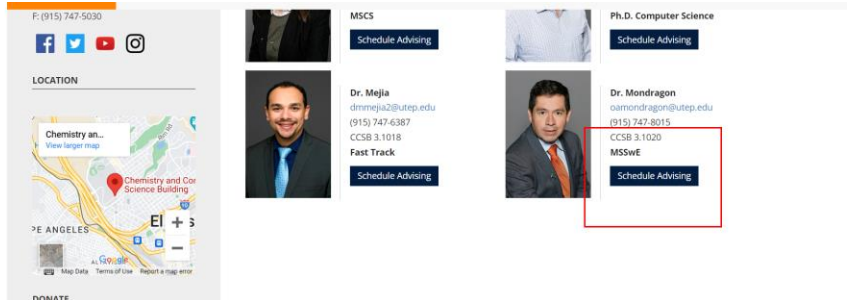

STUDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY

Students are ultimately responsible for meeting the degree requirements stated in the catalog associated with the term in which you were admitted to the graduate program. You must inform your advisor if you intend to pursue the requirements of a newer catalog year. The catalog may be found at: <http://catalog.utep.edu/> - please review the catalog carefully.

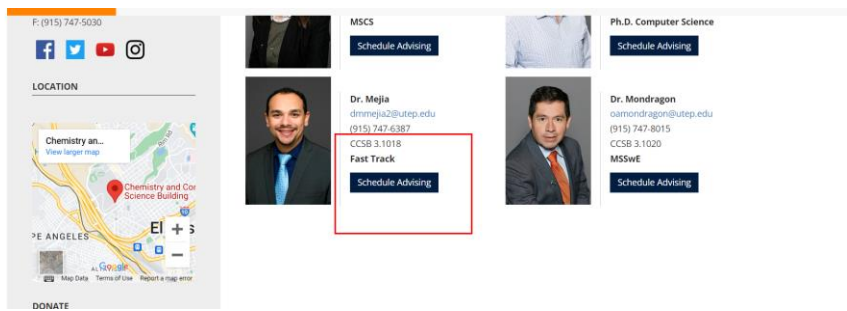

ADVISING PROCESS

Schedule an appointment with your faculty advisor (see below). Prior to your advising appointment, complete an advising form with all of the courses you intend to take. The appointment with your advisor is intended to review your course selections, communicate your goals, needs, and concerns. You should inform your advisor of any changes in plans and/or circumstances that may affect your academic performance and progress.
